

Dear FCC the recent move to remove any regulation of the news media by unregulating cross ownership of media sources is highly ill advised. A truly free press requires many sources of news which the reader or listner can sort through and compare information is critical. Please reconsider this move toward monopoly of information by less and less sources.

Thankyou David